

A wide-angle photograph of a modern office interior. In the foreground, several white desks are arranged in rows, each with a black computer monitor and a bright yellow office chair. The desks are equipped with various office supplies like paper trays and pens. In the background, there are glass-walled meeting rooms and a brick wall. The ceiling features recessed lighting panels. The overall atmosphere is clean, bright, and professional.

Our Solution

For the main open-plan office space, we supplied and fitted Nova-U bench system desks - in white with lime green acrylic screens - complemented by pedestal storage, desk-end storage and task seating; while the main boardroom was furnished with an elegant boardroom table, with chrome trumpet base, built-in power and data module.
